Programmers and listeners can't get enough "Kandi"

"A few of times a year a song hits me in just the right way...I never know exactly why but it happened with One Eskimo. And I guess I'm not alone...I've had more calls and emails about "Kandi" than anything else in months."

- Ethan Minton / WCLZ

"One eskimO was fantastic at our Corner Lounge Live event! The video/animation was fascinating and people were really taken by their music. They made a lot of new fans AND – we are getting some great inquiry phone calls and emails about "Kandi" – people are reacting and asking about it after a small number of spins! This band is the real deal!"

- Brad Savage / WCNR

Up In The Air gets high praise from just about everyone

"The Movie of the Year, the Movie of the Moment. With Up in the Air, George Clooney and director Jason Reitman have spun our modern nightmares—crashing economies, fractured love affairs, looming layoffs—into a lyric film for the ages." - GQ

"Up in the Air is the rare film that does justice to economic desperation by expressing it with an honest populist embrace. At the same time, it's a movie about how one man living inside the cocoon of an overly detached culture comes to see the error of his own detachment. Up in the Air is light and dark, hilarious and tragic, romantic and real. It's everything that Hollywood has forgotten how to do; we're blessed that Jason Reitman has remembered. Rating: A"
- Entertainment Weekly

"Cynicism and sentiment have melded magically in movies by some of the best American directors, from Preston Sturges and Billy Wilder to Alexander Payne. Jason Reitman mined the same territory in Thank You for Smoking and his smash hit, Juno, and it's pleasing to report that he's taken another rewarding journey down this prickly path in his eagerly awaited new film, Up in the Air. Boasting one of George Clooney's strongest performances, the film seems like a surefire awards contender, and the buzz will attract a sizable audience." - Hollywood Reporter

"Timeliness can be tricky to pull off convincingly in movies. It's tough to capture an era while it's still happening, yet Up in the Air does so brilliantly, with wit and humanity." - USA Today

Coming in January: Cage The Elephant, Citizen Cope, Angelique Kidjo, Backyard Tire Fire...
